MISSION CONTROL

In memory of our friend and classmate Kenneth Cloutier

He impressed those of us who knew him with his bright smile and friendly manner. Kenny added a special warmth and kindness to our lives and he will be remembered always as our friend.

MISSION MEMORIES

For four years we have been on a voyage of discovery and learning, reaching out toward other, more distant galaxies of maturity.

We have explored new places and have discovered more about ourselves and each other.

Some of us
were bold explorers

ready to plunge into darkness in search of the light of knowledge.

Others waited to learn more about the mission before becoming involved in the activities of the voyage.

Each of us has worked on separate parts of our mission, but we have all worked successfully toward its completion.

Encouraged by the atmosphere of friendship, we were able to broaden our scope and travel beyond old frontiers. We have had many close encounters but Mission Control was standing by to safeguard our voyage and maintain our paths.

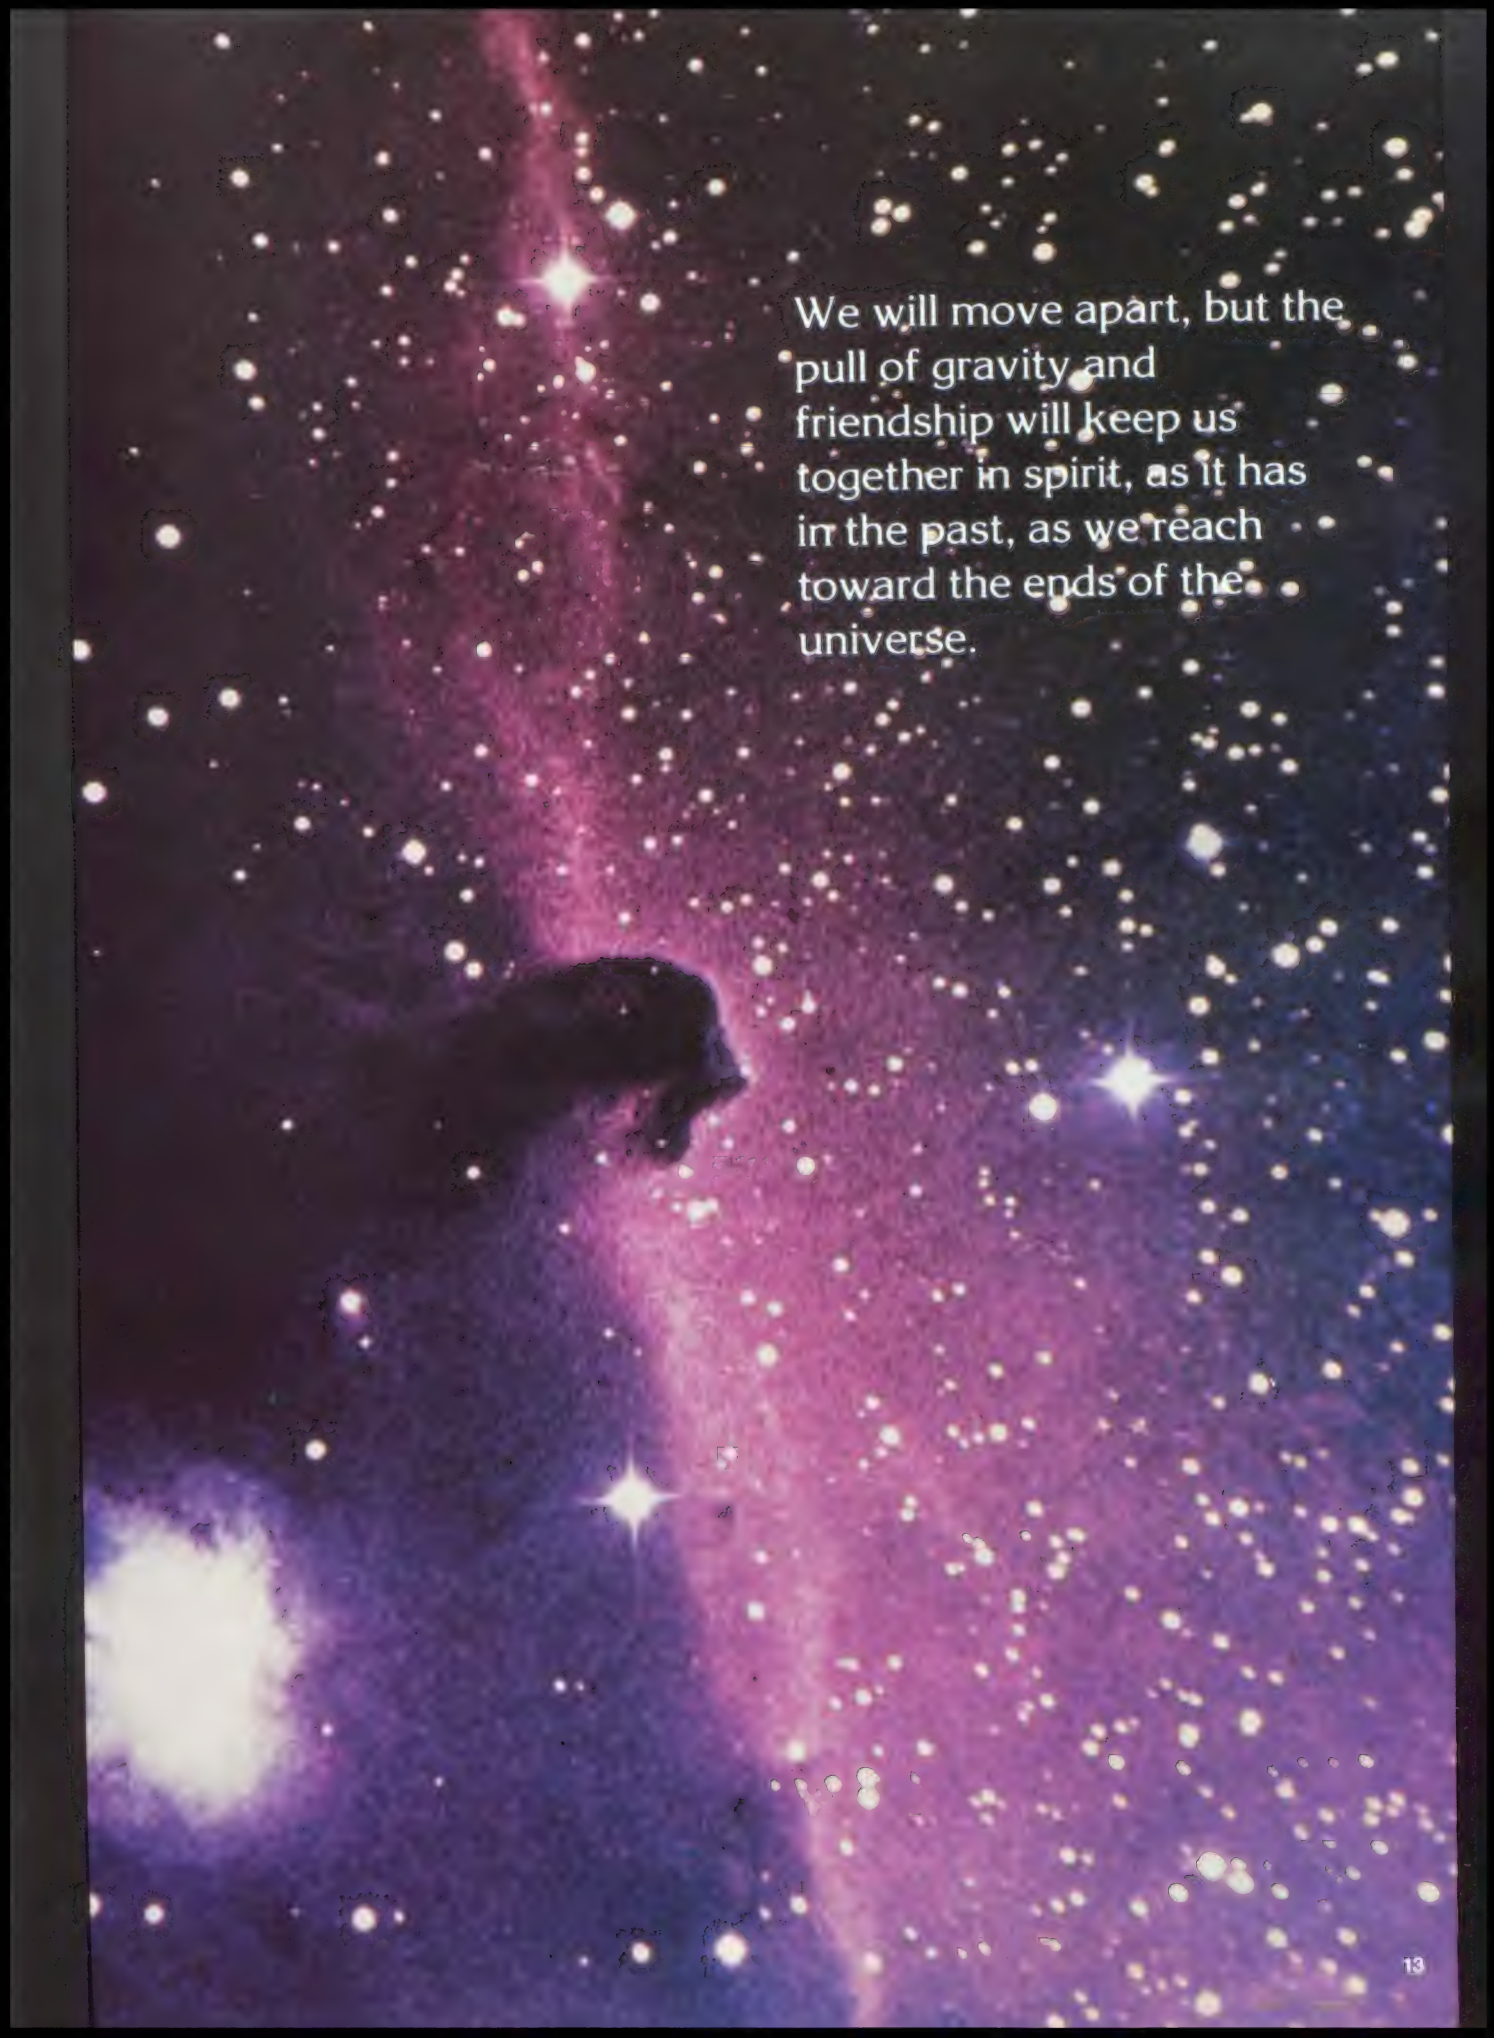

Now we are able to expand our orbits into greater ones. It is time to probe deeper into the universe, to explore untried enterprises and to conquer new horizons.

A vertical cosmic scene featuring a vibrant purple nebula that runs diagonally from the top left towards the bottom right. The background is a deep blue-black space filled with numerous white stars of varying sizes. In the lower-left quadrant, there is a bright, glowing yellow-white nebula. A dark silhouette of a person's head and shoulders is visible in the lower-left, looking upwards towards the purple nebula.

We will move apart, but the pull of gravity and friendship will keep us together in spirit, as it has in the past, as we reach toward the ends of the universe.

As our voyage comes to an end, we realize how important he was to its successful completion. His advice, involvement and teaching have helped us reach for the stars and understand the universe.

Because of his contributions, we, the Class of 1985, dedicate our yearbook to

VOYAGE VIEWS

As our four years of high school draw to a close, we look back on this time with pride. We entered the high school as freshmen, just like spaceships entering new orbits. We were lost for a short time, but gradually, through trial and error, we were able to establish our own comfortable paths. These orbits were different for each of us; some of us chose the arts, others sports and still others academics. Although our choices were varied, we were strengthened by our individual differences and our class grew increasingly stronger. We reached out to each other forming friendships which gave us the moral support to achieve and to dream.

Now, as we prepare to move out of this orbit, we cast a look backward and realize how much we have accomplished. Our pride swells with a sense of achievement. Our future is calling. It is now time for us to move out into larger orbits and discover new goals.

TIME CAPSULE

We, the members of the Class of 1985, being bold explorers of the universe, do hereby leave the following to the future inhabitants of this world and others:

Stephen Anderson: my close friends and great sense of humor

Maureen Army: Chuck and Goob at the ballet with Kathy as senior AG and the rest of the field hockey team with no more black eyes but many wins (or goals). Right guys?!

Jackie Baldwin: my stubborn nature to be carried on by my little sister Teri

Andrew Barber: Debbie Lee with all of her borrowed geometry homework assignments

Patrick Belanger: first trumpet position to SB

Mark Berkowitz: my faith to Mr. Stine and my good grades to Diane

Alan Blomquist: the Apple II (Dinosaur) to haunt the English department of WLHS

Richard Bodian: my "Seniors Do it Better" pin to a friend who will eventually pass it on to another

Dawn Bracken: all of the bathrooms to the underclassmen. "Have fun!"

Jim Brangan: Monday mornings to anyone who can wake up

Dave Brennan: my programs to Mr. Panaccione, and anyone else who dares to use them

Lorie Brooks: the strength to overcome challenges

Mike Brooks: my position as a "top-rated" student to anyone who wants it

Michelle Butler: all of the hassles of band to her sister Dawn

Laurel Camilleri: my school friends behind while looking forward to the future with enthusiasm and optimism

Tammy Chapman: the hope of finding true happiness

Patti Chipman: my "utility position" in the capable glove of Paula Van Schelt

Diane Church: the stickers in my locker to the unfortunate person who gets it

Danny Colone: the special keys

Vinnie D'Aleo: next year's class with the hope of finding some place to go on weekends

Debbie DeRosa: the high school in her red Volkswagon (as fast as it will go)

Darren Deschaine: my running shoes to any up-coming freshman

Mark Desmond: my shelf in the art cabinet to someone else's artistic ability

Carol Desovich: Mark and John in the snow and without a truce

Cheryl Doak: Mr. Widmer's butterfly nets to any girl who goes insect collecting without suitable "grubbies"

Jake Donihee: Angie, Beth and Amy to deal with the school system

Charlene Doustou: memories of the best four years of my life

Derek Drezek: my neckties to my brother Dana

George Dyson: love and friendship to my little girls: Deb and Bonnie

Alby Evans: the challenge to walk the school as well as Ron and I did to any two underclassmen (Hit Committee)

Chris Fargo: all of my excuses for getting out of trouble to all those poor, needy freshmen

Julie Ford: Jen the keys to the car and directions on how to drive it (especially on Webb St.)

Karen Fortini: the Brat, my brother, to Windsor Locks High School with no regrets

Gina Fredo: all of my excuses for getting out of trouble to those who need them

Scott Gaidos: partying at Rainbow to whoever wants it

Sharon Gale: the challenge of beating Hall High to next year's girls' swim team

Cheryl Gemme: "Russells" to Laurie hoping she enjoys them as much next year as we did this year

Fred Girard: a box of No-doz for next year's senior math class

Mark Hancock: all of Mr. Beaudry's math tests to any unsuspecting underclassman

Dan Harvey: two black strips in the back parking lot

Lisa Hebert: all of the times at the firehouse to Lynn in the hope that she can handle J. Pascelli

Julie Hoffa: my "Guido" hat to whoever can be the next "Guido"

John Holden: my classical stance to the next pro-side tackle in the season of '85

Kim Holden: the good times with Mrs. Fitzgerald and my steno and transcription books

What is a Bargain?

Beware of advertisements which claim huge savings on diamonds. If a diamond is sold at a "bargain" price it is usually because it is an inferior gem. Our membership in the American Gem Society is your assurance of honest value. It costs no more and often less to buy your diamond from a reputable firm that cares about you.
